01

A Permaculture Social Media Site

The Permaculture Crossing (PcX) is a FREE social media site run by, for, and with permaculturists. No pay-to-play incentives like other platforms.

02

Free Teaching & Promotional Materials

Once you are a member of the PcX, you will have access to tons of free images and files for your teaching, community building, and/or permaculture business endeavors.

03

Design Contests, Summits, and Convergences

We host an annual design contest that awards cash prizes! This is a great way to get your personal permaculture journey started strong.

04

Become a PINA Member and See Permaculture Jobs

As a professional trade organization, PINA is committed to supporting professional development in the field of permaculture. Our Permaculture Jobs Kiosk highlights permaculture jobs, internships, and opportunities to bolster your experience.

05

Diploma Programs, Mentorships, and Professional Development

When you are ready to take the next step, streamline your process with the right guidance and support. We offer mentorship, Field Advisors, Diploma programs, and advanced trainings.

What you will find on PcX

Bioregions and Hubs

Spaces to network with and support like-minded folks in your bioregion. Don't see yours represented? We are happy to set up bioregional discussion hubs if you're willing to organize and moderate!

Regenerative Discussion Zones

Public spaces to contribute and connect, based on your passions and interests, e.g. Right Livelihood and a Community Building Network. If you're keen to organize a new space, just let us know!

Courses

As of Spring 2024, we are beginning to roll out our course delivery platform, with courses for newbies as well as seasoned professionals and PDC holders.

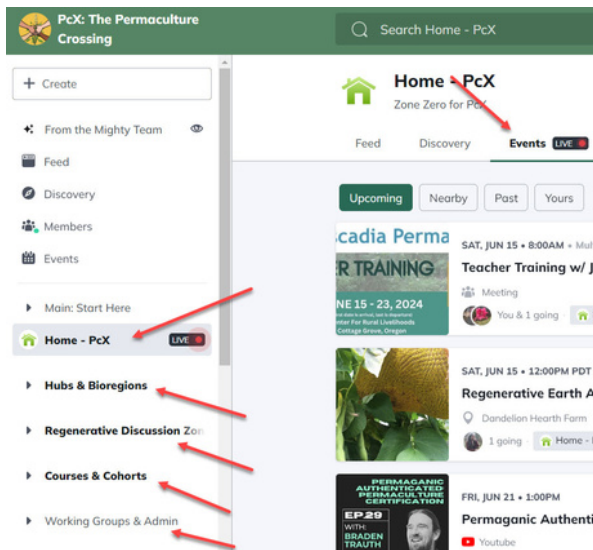

Create your own Spaces!

We're glad to have new moderators for free public spaces. AND you can purchase plans from us to host your own courses and create paid content that generates income for you. Check out our pricing plans page for details.

“This is my experience as a teacher of a couple of thousand people now over 30 years. Everyone is moved by this. And many, many, many people maybe even the majority, have a life-transforming experience when they encounter it. It’s like “there is no going back”, it’s like you went right through the looking glass.”

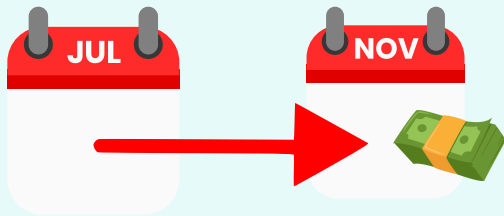

Peter Bane talking about the PDC experience

"I've found this to be one of the best summits on business I've seen. Every presentation offers generous gems of wisdom, grounded in ethics. It's refreshing to see so many permaculture professionals sharing their guidance for the upliftment of this movement. If you want some quality inspiration to keep you on the path, you'll find plenty to fuel your growth in these presentations." Jason Thomas

✓ Design Contest

We hold an annual Design Contest that opens in July. PINA Members are invited to submit designs to win cash prizes for the design implementation. Winners are announced in November.

✓ Summits

We host Summits on various permaculture topics throughout the year. Hear from top permaculture experts. The livestreams are free, and the recordings can be purchased.

✓ North American Convergence

PINA is proud to produce North American Permaculture Convergences. This is the time to make lifelong connections, learn, share, and network.
